

Book Prize 2009

£500 award

The FWSA Book Prize is intended to recognise scholarship which is innovative, interdisciplinary and grounded in feminist theory and practice. The 2009 competition is open to scholars who were employed at or formerly associated with, or a postgraduate student at a British or Irish University or research organisation, between January 1st 2007 and December 31st 2008. Nominated books must be monographs or textbooks and published in English in 2008. We welcome single or jointly authored contributions. Edited collections are not eligible. Books do not have to have a UK publisher.

The deadline for nominations is 31st January 2009.

Please provide the following information:

Book details

Title of book: _____

Author: _____

Publisher: _____

ISBN: _____

Date of publication: _____

What makes this book important: _____

Five key words: _____

Your details

Full Name: _____

Affiliation _____

Address: _____

Email: _____

Please return your completed submission form and 2 copies of the nominated book to:
Dr Stacy Gillis, School of English, Percy Building, Newcastle University, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE1 7RU, UK

*Please note, gratis copies can be requested from a publisher for entry into competitions. These copies can be sent directly to the FWSA, as above.